COLONIAL THEATRE.

lice Joyce Appearing in Her Suprer Sacrifice, Two-Reel Feature.

Alice Joyce, the charming little lady who graces so many of the powerful and delightful Kalem photoplays, and it is with pleasure that the manage-ment of the Colonial theatre anment of the Colonial theatre an-nounces her appearance there today in one of the most profound domestic plays of the year. It is entitled Her Supreme Sacrifice and deals with a ographer whose marriage stenographer whose marriage with a common control of the control o his father's home. She is subsequently wooed by her employer, a millionaire, and as she is about to be married to him her former husband returns, as his father had died without forgiving Wedding guests assembled catches a glimpse of her child and hus-band watching from a concealed point, and upon investigation learns gute of affairs and decides that her first love is the real love and, forsaking wealth, goes back to her family. Other films today are Out of the Storm, Lubin: Auntie's Portrait, Vitagraph, and The Fable of the City Grafters and wealth, goes back to her family. Unprotected Rubes, George Ade. oming Monday is Nance O'N (famous for her production in this city and others of Fires of St. John), ap-pearing in The Kreutzer Sonata, Tol-stol's wonderful drama of human emo-

HOMAN'S MUSICAL REVUE AT THE DAVIS NEXT WEEK.

The attraction billed for the Davis theatre next week is the Homan Mu sical Revue, which comes here after ying all the leading New England atres, where they have scored a treadous hit, having played in Portand, Me., for eight consecutive weeks, and Haverhill, Mass., for 18 weeks. It is nearly two years since the company layed here, and the impression they played here, and the impression they left then with the Norwich theatre-goers hasn't died away, and everyone will be glad to welcome them back again, for they are without a doubt the originators of this form of enterthe originators of this form of enter-tainment, and they have stood the test of time and are still the leading mu-sical company playing the United States today. There are 18 people in the company, including many favor-ites, such as Betty Farrington, Bob Jewett, William Morrison, Ray Pendle-ton, Jene Boudray, Prince Ellwood, Clara Elgin, Francis Lind and many others, which include a chorus the like of which the Norwich theatregoer has never seen in tabloid shows. There will e an entire change of programme on londay, Wednesday and Friday, and Mr. Homan has chosen his finest for this engagement. There will also be an unusually strong bill of photo-pleys, and altogether this promises to be the event of the season. Today the Musical Follies complete eir week's engagement here and the bill today is one of the finest offerings of the week. Matinee at 2.30; all seats 10 cents; children 5 cents. Evening at 7 and 8.45; 10, 15 and 20 cents.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. A special children's matinee will be given by the Marcus Musical Comedy company this afternoon, and all children will be admitted for 5c. Izzy's Visit Out West is the name of the bill that will be presented, and it is an exesptionally attractive one for the chil-dren as well as the grown-ups. This excellent company of musical comedy artists, headed by Mike Sacks, will be the attraction at the Auditorium again all next week and will present three entirely new bills, with nothing that has been seen this past week repeat-ed, not even the costumes. On Monday and Tuesday of next week Izzy's Visit to the New York Winter Garden will be presented, and this is positive ly the best and classiest musical com-edy farce ever seen at this house. A full set of special scenery is carried full set of special scenery is carried for this show and exquisite wardrobe will be worn by the hades of the company. As the bill for Monday and Tuesday is a show that will be especially pleasing to the ladies' an extra attraction will be run at the Monday matinee only, when a beautiful big leather rocking chair, a cut glass punch howl and a rarasol will be given away.

howl and a parasol will be given away, to ladies only.
On the picture programme for Monday and Tuesday will be a corking three-reel feature entitled The Phan-tom Violin, featuring those two popu-

NEW JACKET SUIT FOR THE LITTLE MAN.

This design is new and very popular. The underwaist may be replaced by a blouse or shirtwaist, and the jacket may be omitted. The trousers are cut in regulation style, and the entire suit is easy to develop. Serge, covent cloth, cheviot, linen, drill, galates or gingham may be used for its development. The pattern is cut in four sies: 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. It requires 2 5-8 yards of 36-inch material for a 4-year size, with 1 yard of 27-inch material for the underwaist.

POETRY

TETE-A-TETE.

Nobody sits in the little arm chair;
It stands in a corner dim;
But a white-haired mother, gazing
there,
And yearningly thinking of him.
Sees through the dusk of long ago
The bloom of her boy's sweet face,
As he rocks so merrily to and fro
With a langh that cheers the place.

metimes he holds a bood in his hand, Sometimes a pencil and slate;
And the lesson is hard to understand,
And the figures are hard to mate;
But she sees the nod of the father's head
So proud of his little son,
And she hears the word so often said:
"No fear for our little one."

They were wonderful days, the dear,

sweet days,
When a child with sunny hair
Vas here to scold, to kiss an praise,
At her knee in the little chair,
he lost him, back in her busy years,
When the great world caught the

And he strode away past hopes and fears
To his place in the battle's van. But now and then, in a wistful dream,
Like a picture out of date.
She sees a head with a golden gleam
Bent over a pencil and state;
And she lives again the happy day,
The day of her young life's spring,
When the small arm chair stood just in the way.

Sing me the song you sang last night, The one with the minor strain That seemed, as it quivered, plaintive and low, Twas a wounded bird in pain
that sang, while it thought of its home
far away,
And in this a farewell song,

notes
That to homesick songs belong.
Oh! I am so far from the old hills I knew.
Don't mind if I sob, for the haze
Clears away while you sing, and again I see
Loved ones of other days.
I'm not a stranger to them tonight,
I'm their own wee girl once more;
I'm their girl in the little pink calica
dress,
And my heart isn't aching or sore.
So sing an to me as a mother would
